

DREAMTRACKING ©
A Wilderness Experience for Women, ages 16-30
July 20 - 27, 2019

“In the Iroquois world, a female baby is a blessing from the Creator because she means the cycle of our generations will continue on. From earliest childhood a girl baby is encouraged to take a leading role in her family and group... In the past, young women were expected to be physically strong. They had to learn all the skills of survival... Before she reached puberty, an Iroquois woman would have been able to survive in any environment.”

— from Women are the Center of all Things Within Iroquois Society, by Doug George-Kanentiio

Being aware of the daily inequalities that women face, as well as the deep misunderstanding of the sacred feminine that we see in the world at this moment, The Tracking Project has been working to empower women through our curriculum since the organization’s conception. The first Dreamtracking Camp for Young Women took place in 1996 and has since continued to take place in northern New Mexico every July.

The world is evolving and we are evolving with it. In the past, Dreamtracking was an experience for younger women ages 12-18, but recently we have noticed that our teachings are particularly valuable to women ages 16-30, and so we are now offering higher levels of the teachings to this age group.

Self-empowerment, self-awareness, and a connection to Mother Nature are fostered through physical practices like fire making, archery, camouflage, silent movement, conscious running and self-defense techniques, but also through mental and spiritual practices like meditation, dreaming, moon knowledge, herbology, art, storytelling, stargazing, humor and music.

Come and join a beautiful community of women in the breathtaking environment of the high desert southwest. Develop your sense of adventure, freedom and confidence in a safe and fun environment.

Tuition: $650.00

Dreamtracking – General Information

The Tracking Project accepts names of interested young girls throughout the year and these names are taken down in the order that they come in. Campers who attended the previous year are given first chance to return. Their decision must reach our office by April 26. Then we begin to call the other applicants, filling the remaining spots until we have 30 campers. This process allows us to take our campers as far as they would like to go in terms of skills, knowing that they can come back year after year.

If you are informed that you have been accepted for the camp, you will receive a link to an on-line registration form and you will be asked to make a payment of $325 (deposit) or $650 (full tuition) plus a non-refundable registration fee of $35.

The balance is due by June 19.

Travel

Dreamtracking will take place in a high country meadow on the Circle A Ranch in the Jemez Mountains near Cuba, New Mexico. The camp officially begins at 5:00 p.m. on July 20. Camp ends on the morning of July 27.

Campers arriving by car should plan to arrive on Saturday, July 20 at the Circle A Ranch between 1 and 4 p.m. They should be picked up at the same place between 10:30 a.m. and 12:00 p.m. on Saturday, July 27. Please be prompt!

Campers arriving by air should arrive in Albuquerque on Saturday, July 20 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. They should depart Albuquerque Sunport on Saturday, July 27 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Our travel agent — Terry Williams-Keffer — will help you coordinate your arrival and departure times to coincide with our van pick-ups. Because of time restraints, it is important that everyone adhere to these times.
